Learning to shine,
We make ourselves stars
In life's vast universe;
We journey
Through time and space,
Rotating, maturing
And evolving.

Mr. Harrington keeps current with the news as he patrols the halls.

Mr. Culver scoots along during the class games.

Mr. Phillips helps Melinda Smith with a problem concerning the senior trip.

Mr. Brownlee joins Mr. Culver for the TLC team.

Mr. Lawrence ponders which question to ask his seniors next.

It has been said that a public school is a good place to get an education. It has also been noted that Lakeview is a great place to get an education because her graduates have attained significant accomplishments.

To the seniors, we know you will continue this tradition of high achievement; to the underclasspersons, we will continue to help you assure the future; and to the staff, we congratulate you on your contributions to these, our students.

Sincerely,

Paul Williams

SENIORS

Senior Class Officers: Sue Taylor, Secretary; Doug Labrecque, President; Melinda Smith, Vice-President; Janet McNally, Treasurer.

The Class of '82 finally did it. The students survived their freshman, sophomore, and junior years and went on to become the Ultimate Class — the Senior Class. There were mixed feelings among the seniors as to what "seniorhood" actually meant. Some believed that the survival of four high school years was an accomplishment in itself; that simply getting there was enough. Others struggled for something more throughout their years at Lakeview: recognition as a team or club member, perhaps, or a certain academic record, or possibly another goal. Still others spent their high school years in programs such as Vo-ed or Co-op, preparing for the larger business world they would face after graduation.

Although being a senior meant different things to different people, the seniors still had something in common — they had survived four years of high school, and they had done it together. This year's senior government helped the Senior Class coordinate their many activities. Heading the Class for his third year was President Doug Labrecque. Vice-President was Melinda Smith, Secretary was Sue Taylor, and Treasurer was Janet McNally. Tom Phillips was the Senior Class Advisor. Together the seniors gathered enough spirit and determination to win first place in both the field day activities and the Spirit Jug contest on Class Activities Day. Besides the annual senior candy sales, the seniors sponsored this year's bonfire and a couple of school dances. The Senior Prom took place at Kellogg Community College on May 15. For their senior trip, they planned to vacation at Freeport in the Bahamas.

All their activities helped the seniors retain the excitement and unity that held them together as a class. For this was their final year they could have to work, think, grow, and simply be together. As each member of the Class of '82 looks forward to his future as an individual on his own, he surely will recall his final year at Lakeview High School, when he was a member of the Senior Class of 1982.

Senior prom

In tuxedos and formals and with smiling faces, this year's seniors went to their last Lakeview prom, held in the Kellogg Community College Cafeteria with music provided by the "Wiz Kids." Girls were given a silk white rose, a brandy snifter, and a pamphlet which depicted this year's theme "Reflections." After a night of dining and dancing, many of the sleepy-eyed seniors headed for a day in the sun at Lake Michigan.

Lake Michigan

As the lights of Senior Prom faded, the seniors seemed reluctant to go to the Lake Michigan rendezvous in the cold, damp mist of the rain. Neither rain nor sleet nor dark of night could keep them away from their traditional party at Lake Michigan. The convoy to Covert Beach was postponed till Sunday morning's weather permitted the fun and excitement they all had imagined it to be. The day was full of swimming, tanning, sleeping, and various other senior activities. Rain or sunshine, either way it was a Senior Prom that no one would soon forget.

Senior trip

The Bahamas was the chosen destination for this year's senior trip. Through the course of the year, seniors sold candy, fruit, raffle tickets, cashews, and other miscellaneous items to raise money toward their trip. Senior trip advisor, Tom Phillips, with the help of his "Joppa Mafia," made sure the 98 forgetful-minded seniors made their payments on time. The five-day sun-filled trip began with a rowdy bus ride to Detroit and a few hours of impatient waiting to board the plane. Once in the air seniors still couldn't believe they were on their way after nine long months of planning.

In the Bahamas seniors went sightseeing in the rain, caught some sun, attended beach parties, threw each other in the pool at night, raided all the ice machines, spent big bucks on straw souvenirs, and wished R. J. Riedel happy birthday. Sadly it all came to an end when the buses rolled into the familiar Battle Creek area where Mr. Phillips let out a sigh of relief. They brought back sandy suitcases, sunburn, and adventures to always remember of the senior trip of '82.

Senior breakfast

On a sunny June 3 morning the traditional Senior Breakfast began in a nicely decorated purple and white cafeteria. After finishing a breakfast of juice, fruit, Egg McMuffins, and donut holes sponsored by the PSTO, Superintendent Paul Williams offered the Senior Class a challenge. Then the seniors proceeded to the auditorium for some entertainment provided by mistresses Sue Taylor and Janet McNally, singing by Lori Brenner and Doug Labrecque, and a news skit by Joan Melekian. Afterwards the group had a few hours of commencement practice in the auditorium and stadium preparing themselves for their June 6 graduation.

Baccalaureate

The evening's Baccalaureate service began with presentation of the invocation given by senior Linda Carpenter. After the A Cappella choir sang a number of songs, accompanied by organist Ralph Deal, the Reverend David Graham gave his sermon, "The Final Test." The service ended with benediction and a choral response, at which time parents and graduates proceeded to the cafeteria for a reception of punch and cookies, sponsored by the Junior Class.

Commencement

Friends and family gathered in the Spartan Memorial Stadium to attend the 1982 commencement ceremonies. After the graduates marched to the traditional "Pomp and Circumstance," Reverend Gary Cantrell delivered the invocation.

Senior Class President Doug Labrecque gave his fellow classmates some "parting thoughts," followed by Glenn Lawrence who spoke on "happiness."

Junior Class Officers: Eric Derks, treasurer; Karl J. Knack, secretary; Chris Rhodes, vice-president; Joe Lussier, president.

The Junior Class sometimes seems to be the ideal class to belong to. The juniors rest comfortably in the middle of the high school classes, no longer considered immature but not quite sophisticated. While in his junior year, a person usually begins to think seriously about his own future, wondering whether he should find a job, join a branch of the military, apply at a certain university, or perhaps follow another dream. But whether a junior is already certain or still undecided about his future, he knows that he will still have one more year to remain in his familiar surroundings while deciding about the future.

Each Junior Class is made up of unique individuals with original personalities, and the Class of '83 certainly seemed to have its share of originality. Class president Joe Lussier's election "speech" consisted of a campaign song, written by himself and Karl Knack to the tune of "Misty," and a promise of hard work and loyalty to the Junior Class. Vice-president Chris Rhodes, secretary Karl J. Knack, and treasurer Eric Derks made up the rest of the all-male government. Both Joe and Chris have had past experience in the student government, Joe as freshman president and Chris as sophomore vice-president. Eric served on the Student Senate during his sophomore year.

With the help of Junior Class advisor Jim Culver, the juniors sponsored the Homecoming flower sale and the annual Girl-Date-Boy dance in March, among other events. Although the juniors seemed to be filled with spirit during Class Activities Day, they placed fourth in the field competition.

In all their activities throughout the year, the juniors retained their sense of pride and accomplishment in their class, along with hope for the future of their class and the individuals who made up the class.

Sophomore Class Officers: Peggy Gronewold, secretary; Mindi Schaefer, president; Suzi Squiers, treasurer; Lisa Lusk, vice-president.

As sophomores begin their second year of high school, they also begin to shed some of their doubts and insecurities about being high school students. They have been through one year already, and now they are beginning to feel like a part of the whole high school. As their choice of courses and activities expands, the sophomores are able to meet people in grades other than their own and discover new interests. The sophomores can now be proud of their class because it is a unique class, a group of individuals, and unlike any other group.

The Class of '84 this year was headed by an all-girl government. Mindi Schaefer was elected president, along with vice-president

Lisa Lusk, secretary Peggy Gronewold, and treasurer Suzi Squiers. Three of the four officers had held government positions in their freshman year, Mindi as vice-president, Peggy as secretary, and Suzi as treasurer.

The Sophomore Class planned school-related events during the year, such as the Valentine's Day flower sales, school dances, and car washes to help raise money for their class. In the field day activities, the class placed second.

Throughout all their school and class activities, the sophomores strengthened their sense of belonging in the school and their feelings of unity as a class.

Some say that the freshman year is the most difficult of all the high school years. Becoming a freshman means leaving behind familiar schools, people, classes, and everyday situations to face a new school with new people, classes and situations. The same people who had finally become the rulers of their junior high schools suddenly find themselves at the bottom again, bearing the humble title of "freshmen."

Freshmen seem to need a strong class government to lead them through their first high school year. This year's class officers joined forces from different schools and backgrounds to help the many freshmen feel the pride and unity of one class. Mike

Mumford was elected president, along with vice-president Kim Hollman, secretary Sara Sherman, and treasurer Mike Butler.

The freshmen hoped to make a name for themselves by creating posters, hall decorations, and general class spirit for the Spirit Jug competition, and they managed to place third in the field day activities. By the end of the school year the Class of '85 seemed to have that sense of unity found in high school classes. They developed pride in their "freshman" title; however, they seemed to be looking onward to the years ahead, and when they would finally bear the long-awaited title of . . . Senior.

Activities

Shining on into the future,
We find ourselves aware
Of the radiance
In and around us
And of the vividness
With which it reaches out
To all we know.

Homecoming

Homecoming 1981 was a little more special than in the past years as Lakeview celebrated the twentieth anniversary of the new high school. The building's first Homecoming Queen, Julie Purcell of 1961, came back to her alma mater to help Joe Lussier, Junior Class President, robe Jennifer Vargas and Doug Labrecque, Queen and King of Lakeview.

The usual activities filled Homecoming Week. The seniors won field day taking first in five crazy events, making it the second time the Class of '82 has won field day games.

An exciting powder puff game took place that evening. The seniors defeated the undies 20-12.

The bonfire had an unusual twist when it was set fire a day before bonfire night. Generous people in the community donated wood and the bonfire went on as usual.

On Friday the fans gathered to cheer the Spartans on, but were disappointed at the 19-15 loss to Portage Northern.

The week concluded with the dance featuring the band, "Black Max."

Girl-date-boy dance

Twilight Skyline was the theme for this year's Girl-Date-Boy dance, with the couples dancing to the music of One Way.

The night was March 27 and the couples steadily came to and from the dance, each receiving a picture taken by Randy Labrecque, former graduate, as they entered.

Punch was served in the cafeteria which was decorated resembling a New York penthouse. The whole evening was a night most will never forget.

Aqua sprites

"City Lites, City Sprites" was the theme for the 1982 Aqua Sprites show held on April 30 and May 1.

Co-captains for this year were Diane Doersam and Brenda Doubleday.

The show moved through songs about different cities, numbers including "Philadelphia Freedom," "New York, New York," and "America." The finale, which included all of the water-dancing, was performed to "'76 Trombones."

At their annual banquet Brenda Doubleday was elected as the Outstanding Senior, Jenny Teitsma as Most Improved, and the Sparkling Sprite Sportsmanship award was given to Joan Melekian.

Mrs. Laura Culver was the Sprites' advisor again this year, aided by assistant coaches Shug Brandell, Candy Tuttle, and Beth Brophy.

Fantasy

Fantasy 1982 for the first time in many years was held in the winter, Feb. 12 and 13, rather than in the spring.

MC's John Green and Joe Gonzalez led the show through 30 acts.

The Boys Chorus Line bobbed their way through "When the Red, Red Robin."

The Girls Chorus Line danced to "In the Mood" and "One."

Other acts varied from unicycles, a French horn solo, dancing, singing and martial arts.

Snow days didn't affect the performance as Fantasy advisors Ellen Harvey, Carl Moore, and Avis Pontoni directed one of the best Fantasies ever.

SATB choirs

Participation in both the Soprano-Alto and the Tenor-Bass Choirs is available to all students. Since these are basically training choirs, actual performances are minimal. They did perform, however, at the Christmas and the spring concerts. Enrollment in these classes is a prerequisite for participating in the A Cappella Choir.

Spartanares

Working hard throughout the 1982 school year, the Spartanares performed at many clubs and associations. Their annual Pops Concert was held in March and they also performed in the 1982 Fantasy under the direction of Mrs. Avis Pontoni.

But this year was special for the 24 members because they were able to raise enough money to travel to Mariott's Great America to perform in competition at the park during May.

Tara Kinnisten, Damon Vocke, Kim Tudor, and Jay Heine sing their hearts out.

Linda Carpenter and Chad DeWeerd sing to "Whenever I'm Away From You."

A Cappella

This year the A Cappella Choir performed at the annual Top Ten Assembly, Christmas, and Spring Concerts, Baccalaureate and concerts at both Highland and Woodrow Junior High Schools.

The Choir also attended the Southwestern Vocal Association Festival at Western Michigan University and the Lakeview High School All-School Music Festival.

Marching band

The LHS Marching Band concluded another successful season. Their activities included marching in several parades, including the Memorial Day and Christmas parades, Western Michigan University's Homecoming parade, as well as Lakeview's Homecoming parade.

The Band performed in two concerts, including their annual Band-orama concluding marching season.

For the third year in a row the Band attended Band Camp at Michigan State University.

They received a I rating at the Marching Festival held at Marshall. They later scored a I at their concert festival.

Pippin

The 1982 musical "PIPPIN" was presented April 23 and 24 in Lakeview's auditorium. James Douglas Kent, Battle Creek Youth Symphony director and musical director of the Barn Theatre in Augusta, led the 38-member cast to an outstanding musical that few will ever forget.

Pippin, the oldest son of King Charlemagne, struggles throughout various stages of his life, including war, homelife, murder, sex, and love. He tries many ways to make himself happy and satisfied with his life until he meets Catherine and her son Theo.

This year's musical was very special because of the community's help. When budget cuts forced the cancellation of a musical for the second straight year, the community rallied to raise the money for the necessary expenses.

Joe Lussier as Charlemagne sings on the glories of battle.

Dan Patient and Chris Myatt perform in the pit.

Tara Kinnisten and Mike Gregory discover the plot.

Leading Player Lance Johnson opens the show with "Magic to Do."

National Honor Society

Students are elected into the NHS during the spring months of their sophomore, junior or senior years. To be eligible for membership, 10th and 11th graders must have a cumulative GPA of 3.5 and 12th graders must have a GPA of 3.25.

One of the many things the NHS does is tutor. They have an extensive tutoring program serving not only high school students, but also junior high and elementary students who need a little extra help with their homework.

Becky Postema was this year's President and the Advisor was Mrs. Margaret Lincoln.

Mike Rock smiles remembering his trip to Germany.

Foreign Exchange

Mike Rock, Lakeview High School's only exchange student this year, spent his summer in Germany.

His sponsor family in Germany owned a restaurant and bar called Zum Grünen Jäger, which means The Green Hunter. The drinking age in Germany is 14, but that's because the water is so bad no one can drink it.

Mike feels his trip was well worth it and said he learned more about himself in one summer there than in 17 years here.

Fish Club

Supporting the boys' swim team is the Fish Club's goal. The girls make locker signs, work at the meets and cheer their team on. During conference week, each girl decorates one boy's locker, filling it with candy, cookies and other food.

Debbie Rice was president this year, and Angie Heinz the vice-president. All secretarial work was done by Julie Leach. The creative locker signs were designed by Shelly Russell.

Mat Club

The 35-member Mat Club spent their time backing the wrestling team. The club sponsored a hayride to help earn money and decorated lockers of all the wrestlers with signs. During Big 8 Week, the Mat Club girls decorated all the boys' lockers with food inside and helped other fans cheer the team on.

This year's president was Shari Misner. Other officers were Michele Misner, vice-president, and Paty Burns, treasurer.

French Club

The 1981-82 French Club's first activity was in October when they held their hayride and initiation. The club also participated in the Foreign Language Week Program, held a French cooking contest, and spent a weekend in Chicago.

Officers this year were Karl Knack, Becky Postema, and Carol Stringham. Mrs. Butler was the Club advisor.

One highlight of being a French IV student is the Quebec trip those students are allowed to take.

The Quebec group spent one day in Montreal, the second largest French-speaking city in the world. Four days were spent in Quebec City.

One of the highlights of this year's trip was a visit to Sacred Heart High School in Beauport, a suburb of Quebec City. The class had been exchanging letters for several months with the students from Sacred Heart.

The entire week was spent "immersed" in French and everyone came back more fluent in the language.

Latin Club

The 1982 Latin Club, called "Grex Latinus," started the year off on the right track by winning the decorated car contest during Homecoming week. The float was a huge boat representing Italy kicking a football through a goal post.

Later in the year they wrote a new attendance policy for the club meetings.

They celebrated the Saturnalia, which is a Christmas Festival, at the home of Mrs. Mary Kruska, club advisor.

This year's officers were Consul — Kelly Bracken and Brian Messner, Quaestor — Tammy Coffman, Aedile — Colleen Fitzgerald.

Spanish Club

The Spanish Club, under the direction of Mrs. Barb McKale, spent many evenings having private parties for the club members. The parties included music, food, decorations, and big pinatas filled with candy.

The members also helped to decorate the halls of LHS for Foreign Language week in February and later went to Olivet College for the performance of "The House of Bernarda Alba" by F. Garcia Lorca.

Along with the French Club, they spent a weekend in April visiting Chicago.

FCA

The letters FCA stand for the Fellowship of Christian Athletes. Although many of our school's athletes attend, the meetings are open to anyone who would like to share in Christian fellowship. The group welcomes any student that is interested in finding out more about Christ. Lakeview's FCA meets every other Monday evening in the member's homes.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Ritter (Varsity football coach) and Mr. and Mrs. Alan Gibbs (Varsity basketball coach) are the FCA advisors. They, along with the student officers, conduct discussions about such things as peer pressure, drinking, prayer, Bible study, faith and Christian attitudes in sports. The meetings also include singing and refreshments.

The 1981-82 officers were Linda Carpenter, president; Jeff Pape, vice-president; Lynda Koop, secretary; and Liz Robins, treasurer.

The FCA usually holds several fundraisers to help send members to National FCA Conference in the summer. This year they sold programs at the football games.

Jeff Pape relaxes in the shade during his free time at camp.

School Store and Snack Bar

School Store: Beth Douglass, Bruce Cantrell, John Ainsworth.

Training for business is the concept behind working in the LHS snack bar and school store. While working before school, after school, and during evening sports activities and special events, student workers learn how to work with people, handle money, order merchandise, and totally run a small business.

The students learn the personal characteristics that are important to future employers. During the school year, they learn such traits as being dependable, showing initiative, being punctual, presenting a positive attitude, and other such traits that will help them be successful on a job.

The student also learns the how and why of enjoying work. They learn that they must like selling and working with people to be successful.

Mr. Harold Kransi is the advisor who assists the students to develop their fullest potential as workers in the business world.

Student listeners

Available every hour in the Student Service Center are the Student Listeners.

They are the students trained to listen to the concerns of their classmates. They help to solve the problems without giving advice and are always there to lend an ear.

As with any other organization at LHS, being a part of Student Listening takes a commitment. Over the course of the year the listeners are involved with 8th grade orientation, fall registration, fall and summer adult night school registration, presentations to all the English classes concerning the role of a listener. Listeners also greet new students entering LHS for the first time.

The listeners held three training sessions and attended monthly meetings in order to maintain a close relationship between themselves and to help each other so they could help their fellow classmates.

Student Senate

The 1982 Student Senate helped to coordinate many of the activities for Lakeview during the year.

Under the direction of Mrs. Sue Day, they focused all of their attention to the Homecoming activities during the first part of the year.

They also sent four members to a leadership conference in Grand Ledge.

The annual exchange day was hosted by the Senate at Lakeview in late February, as well as a leadership banquet for the members and the class officers with Richard Fitzpatrick, 48th District Representative, as a guest speaker in May.

This year's Senate President was senior Jennifer Vargas and Vice President was senior Tami Pifer.

Log

Planning for the 1982 LOG actually began during the summer of 1981 when four members of the LOG staff attended Taylor Publishing's workshop at Adrian College to learn how to design a better yearbook. They came back with new ideas, several of which were used in the 1982 LOG.

Ads were sold a little differently this year as sponsor pages were added. Autograph supplement pages were given free to the students in May so they could get autographs from friends before the end of the school year. The book also has a more traditional look with the reappearance of the school's seal on the cover.

Leading the staff this year were editor Mike Rock and advisor Miss Marlyn DeWaard.

Crystal

The Crystal Staff of sixteen worked diligently to publish ten issues of the paper. All were newcomers to working on a paper, except for what they had learned in Journalism class.

They kept Lakeview informed on what was happening in the school and even dealt with national problems such as economy and ecology.

A new format was given to the layout of the Crystal, the staff always trying to include editorials and letters to the editor.

One favorite regular feature was "The Teachers' Lounge", a spoof on soap operas.

Editor first semester was Mike Trautman and second semester Debbi Kulaszewski. Miss Marlyn DeWaard was the advisor who helped keep it all together.

Boys swimming

Despite a slow start, the Boys Swim Team finished second in the Class B State meet for the second year in a row. They also captured the Big 8 title, winning the Conference meet by 81 points as well as defeating their last five conference foes.

Joe Parker set school, pool, and Conference records in both the 50 and 100 free. Tom Fox broke his old diving record, and the 400 free relay team of Russell, Duke Carton, Mike Shivley, and Parker set a pool record.

LHS sent 11 qualifiers to the State meet where several earned high finishes. They included the medley and free relays; Russell, 11th in the 200 free and 8th in the 500 free; Matt Flanders, 3rd in the IM and 2nd in the breast; Chappell, 11th in the butterfly and 8th in the breast; Pat Farrell, 10th in the IM and 8th in the 500; Fox, 2nd in diving; Doug Labrecque, 3rd in diving; and Joe Parker, 1st in the 50 free and 1st in the 100 free.

Try-outs for the J.V. cheerleading squad were held last spring. Most of these girls had never had the opportunity to be a cheerleader. After try-outs eight girls were chosen to cheer for the football season. Two girls were to be dropped for the basketball season.

The first year of being a cheerleader can be a trying one, but this year's junior varsity squad put all doubts to rest. The squads were filled with spirit and enthusiasm that no one has seen for a long time. The girls made signs for every boys basketball game, wore their uniforms every day they cheered, and simply proved they were interested in what they were doing.

These girls represented LHS to the best of their ability and succeeded in doing so.

Varsity cheerleaders

The LHS Varsity cheerleaders attended camp at Michigan State University. There they competed against 25 squads and came in second place. The girls were judged on form, style, precision, and enthusiasm.

Senior Captain Lisa Carr took second place in individual competition and Brenda Doubleday captured third place.

During football season the girls made locker signs for the football team, marched in the Homecoming parade and led cheers at the bonfire. The girls also arranged the decorating of the team's lockers. Some members decorated the fence for the Portage Northern-Lakeview football game. Three pep assemblies were held and the girls showed their enthusiasm by building a huge mount with the J.V. squad.

When the basketball season arrived, the girls decorated the team's lockers and made locker signs on and off through the entire season.

During the early stages of a yearbook, a lot of planning takes place. During the summer of 1981, some of the 1982 LOG staff attended a workshop in Adrian, Michigan in order to better inform us about the making of a yearbook. When the planning was all done, the work had to start and there was a lot.

As editor, I depended not only on the staff but on the Publications Advisor. Ms. Marlyn De Waard warrants many thanks and much appreciation for her kind words of encouragement and stern words of approval or disapproval, without which it would have been difficult to publish this yearbook.

The staff is the backbone of a yearbook, and the 1982 staff deserves a hand for their diligence and hard work that was of the utmost in quality and integrity. The 1982 staff is as follows: Ted Beadle, Chris Brelin, Jenni Brush, Laurie Dubert, Missy Humiston, Joan Melekian, Sandy Oliver, Sherri Ouellette, Annmarie Peterman, Tami Pifer, Sue Taylor, Kris Thurman, Laura Vocke, Marcy Willbrandt, Myrna Eichler. Photographers: Bruce Baker and Duncan Stewart.

At this time I would like to thank Mr. James Culver, Mr. Richard Colburn, Mr. William McNally, Mr. Paul Straub, Kim Etheridge, Chris Challinor, Sue Campbell, Jeff Miller, and Amanda Adamson. All of these people contributed with providing pictures for our use. Also thanks to Carl Dubert for writing the text for page 97.
